DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claims 2-6 are necessarily rejected.

3. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential structural cooperative relationships of elements, such omission amounting to a gap between the necessary structural connections. See MPEP § 2172.01. The omitted structural cooperative relationships are: Applicant recites "a generator arranged to generate electricity from said circulating water" applicant has not structurally defined the generator providing electricity to the light, but recites the generator as simply providing electricity from the circulating water

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2875

2. Claims 1-2,4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lys et al (6,528,954) and further in view of Henry (6,755,349) and in further view of Portyrata (3,845,291).

3. Lys et al discloses the claimed invention except for the recitation of a motion detector activating the light source for a predetermined period of time and a generator arranged to provide electricity from the circulating water. Lys discloses a light system for a swimming pool (fig 61) having a stair assembly and a light mounted proximate the stair assembly. Henry discloses a light system for a water amusement device that provides a motion detector that activates an amusement system including flashing lights for a predetermined period of time (col.4 lines 21-38). Portyrata discloses water powered swimming pool light, the generator including a turbine wheel. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to implement the motion detector of Henry in the device of Lys to provide a lighting system for pool stairs that would provide the user with a temporary lighted pathway to and from the stairs, furthermore the implementation of the device of Portyrata in cooperation with the device of Lys would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill since as taught by Portyrata, a water powered swimming pool light with a light generating means provided by running water in the pool and an electrical generator is purposeful so as to avoid the need for an exterior power source.

With regards to the light being incorporated in one of the stair risers, It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to implement the light in one of the stair risers in the pool since it has been held that rearranging parts of a prior art structure involves only routine skill in the art. In re Japikse, 181 F.2d 1019, 86 USPQ 70 (CCPA 1950).

.Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 3,5,6 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
